WHEREAS, accountability, public responsibility and service to the people is the heart of public trust and the very foundation of moral governance;

WHEREAS, clamors are spreading regarding offices in the Bangsamoro Transition Authority specifically when clientele enter their offices for follow up concerning their transactions with their office, some answers that the in charge is not present and others answer that they lack appropriate personnel to accommodate the need of the clientele;

WHEREAS, the public trust is already on our shoulders, every Ministry Office should be able to respond on the transactions brought to their specific Ministry Office, or if they can't do it, they may refer the transaction to other Ministry Office or other Government Agency, because we are here to serve the people and not to be served;

WHEREAS, public criticism is normal for the people as they hunger for true, effective and honest public service, thus, criticism must not be treated in the negative approach, rather we should treat the same in the positive way, because it is the very mirror that the people put their trust to the new Bangsamoro Government;
